Mark D. Levine, Borough President

Office of Manhattan Borough President Mark Levine Internship Program

The Manhattan Borough President's Office (MBPO) seeks interested college students, at the undergraduate and graduate levels, to participate in their internship program. Prospective interns are energetic, collaborative, innovative and committed to seeking out new and better ways for the office to connect with, and deliver for Manhattan's diverse neighborhoods, communities, and constituents. Interns will gain public service experience in a wide variety of professional areas including public policy, communications, constituent services, land use, special events planning and community relations. Interns will be placed in MBPO units based on their experience and interests.

Urban Planner Intern Opportunity:

The Land Use Division is tasked with assisting in the Office's review of land use actions (including Uniform Land Use Review Procedure applications, General Project Plans, Landmarks, Board of Standards and Appeals, and Department of Buildings applications). The unit works closely with community boards and other community stakeholders to understand positions on these applications as well as various urban planning policies. Land Use staff also regularly provide technical assistance to community board members and constituents on these issues.

The Land Use Director would work with selected interns to develop a portfolio of projects that include various planning and policy areas, including housing, economic development, waterfront and resiliency, and open space and public realm. Interns will have the opportunity to design an independent project in collaboration with the Director.

Qualifications

Interns should have an interest in urban policy, excellent research skills, and an ability to complete tasks independently. Effective written and oral communication will also be important. Ability to use mapping software (ArcGIS, QGIS, R, etc.) a plus.
